

FACULTY VACANCY

Tenure-track Position
Department of Physical Education Studies
Faculty of Education

The Department of Physical Education Studies is inviting applications for a tenure-track position. The Department offers a three-year Bachelor of Physical Education Studies degree, which includes three streams: Teaching, Exercise Science and Fitness, and Recreation and Sport Management. With a current research focus on exercise physiology and sport nutrition, the Department seeks an ideal candidate whose teaching and research expertise can both strengthen and complement this focus.

The successful candidate will be responsible for teaching courses in their area of expertise and may also be required to teach courses outside their specialization within the Department of Physical Education Studies. Responsibilities also include providing service to the University and broader community. Additionally, the candidate may be expected to contribute to strategic planning, general program administration, curriculum planning, assessment, and course development.

Qualifications:

- Doctorate in Physical Education Studies or a related field (e.g., Human Kinetics, Kinesiology, and Exercise Science or Physiology) is preferred. Someone with a master's degree and near completion of a doctoral program (ABD) will also be considered. Applicants may seek to establish an experiential/traditional equivalency to these qualifications and are invited to contact the Chair of the Selection Committee on how to establish equivalent academic or professional credentials.
- Evidence of successful teaching.
- Demonstrated potential for excellence in research.
- Excellent written, verbal, and interpersonal communication skills.

Assets:

- Evidence of other professional qualifications and certifications.
- Evidence of field experience.
- Knowledge of inclusive educational practice
- Commitment to culturally responsive and inclusive teaching approaches.

Rank and Salary: Commensurate with qualifications and experience

Application deadline: January 8, 2025, or until the position is filled

Start Date: On or before July 1, 2025
